

The move from child to adult services – called transition – can be a confusing and challenging time for parents and carers where advice and support is hard to find.

Dimensions is an experienced support provider that understands what a difficult time this is and using our experience we have put together some strategies that may help you navigate this process.

visit: <https://dimensions-uk.org/what-we-do/transition/>

email: business-development@dimensions-uk.org

Find us on social media @DimensionsUK

Think ahead,
Stay in control,
Plan a future.

Advice on moving from child to adult services.