

P-Pod (virtual) Café Friday 26th March at 10:30am – 11:30am

Financial Planning for Young People with SEND

The P-Pod (virtual) Café that took place on Friday 26th March was another relaxed, informative session which provided a platform for parents to be informed, openly ask questions and share experiences with other parents.

The focus of the session was Financial Planning for Young People with SEND provided by Rhiannon Gogh.

“Rhiannon Gogh FPFS is a Chartered Financial adviser and mum to an autistic young man. Alongside running her own financial advice business, she guides parents through the maze that is financial planning for young people with special needs. This may be advice on Wills and Trusts, decision making once your child turns 18, or how to simply set up life insurances or savings plans. She presents to charities, special schools and online, nationally.”

Rhiannon has passed her details and encourages anyone with any questions to get in contact.
